The 'ways of assessing' section provides guidance in developing effective assessment practices.

The 'ways of assessing' section provides guidance in developing effective assessment practices, reflective of the Western Australian principles, reflective of the principles, reflecting on their own practices. Here teachers are encouraged to:

- background information
- reflective questioning
- guidance for additional resources

Refer to the Western Australian (<http://k10outline.scs.wa.edu.au>) practices and phases.

The key to selecting effective reflective questions is to ensure they are:

- How do you use assessment to improve learning?
- Do your assessment practices reflect the principles of the curriculum?
- Do you design assessment that is formative and summative?
- How do you use assessment to improve learning activities, in assessment improved?
- How do you identify and address learning needs?
- How do you identify and address learning needs?
