Language Variation and Change	Language variation and change How English varies according to context and purpose including cultural and historical contexts	Understand that English is one of many languages spoken in Australia and that different languages may be spoken by family, classmates and community	Understand that people use different systems of communication to cater to different needs and purposes and that many people may use sign systems to communicate with others	Understand that spoken, visual and written forms of language are different modes of communication with different features and their use varies according to the audience, purpose, context and cultural background	Understand that languages have different written and visual communication systems, different oral traditions and different ways of constructing meaning	Understand that Standard Australian English is one of many social dialects used in Australia, and that while it originated in England it has been influenced by many other languages	Understand that the pronunciation, spelling and meanings of words have histories and change over time	Understand that different social and geographical dialects or accents are used in Australia in addition to Standard Australian English
	Language for social interactions How language used for different formal and informal social interactions is influenced by the purpose and audience	Explore how language is used differently at home and school depending on the relationships between people	Understand that language is used in combination with other means of communication, for example facial expressions and gestures to interact with others Understand that there are different ways of asking for information, making offers and giving commands	Understand that language varies when people take on different roles in social and classroom interactions and how the use of key interpersonal language resources varies depending on context	Understand that successful cooperation with others depends on shared use of social conventions, including turn-taking patterns, and forms of address that vary according to the degree of formality in social situations	Understand that social interactions influence the way people engage with ideas and respond to others for example when exploring and clarifying the ideas of others, summarising their own views and reporting them to a larger group	Understand that patterns of language interaction vary across social contexts and types of texts and that they help to signal social roles and relationships	Understand that strategies for interaction become more complex and demanding as levels of formality and social distance increase
Language for interaction	Evaluative language How language is used to express opinions, and make evaluative judgments about people, places, things and texts	Understand that language can be used to explore ways of expressing needs, likes and dislikes	Explore different ways of expressing emotions, including verbal, visual, body language and facial expressions	Identify language that can be used for appreciating texts and the qualities of people and things	Examine how evaluative language can be varied to be more or less forceful	Understand differences between the language of opinion and feeling and the language of factual reporting or recording	Understand how to move beyond making bare assertions and take account of differing perspectives and points of view	Understand the uses of objective and subjective language and bias
	Purpose audience and structures of different types of texts How texts serve different purposes and how the structures of types of texts vary according to the text purpose	Understand that texts can take many forms, can be very short (for example an exit sign) or quite long (for example an information book or a film) and that stories and informative texts have different purposes	Understand that the purposes texts serve shape their structure in predictable ways	Understand that different types of texts have identifiable text structures and language features that help the text serve its purpose	Understand how different types of texts vary in use of language choices, depending on their purpose and context (for example, tense and types of sentences)	Understand how texts vary in complexity and technicality depending on the approach to the topic, the purpose and the intended audience	Understand how texts vary in purpose, structure and topic as well as the degree of formality	Understand how authors often innovate on text structures and play with language features to achieve particular aesthetic, humorous and persuasive purposes and effects
Text structure and organisation	Text cohesion How texts work as cohesive wholes through language features which link the parts of the text together, such as paragraphs, connectives, nouns and associated pronouns	Understand that some language in written texts is unlike everyday spoken language	Understand patterns of repetition and contrast in simple texts	Understand how texts are made cohesive through resources, for example word associations, synonyms, and antonyms	Understand that paragraphs are a key organisational feature of written texts	Understand how texts are made cohesive through the use of linking devices including pronoun reference and text connectives	Understand that the starting point of a sentence gives prominence to the message in the text and allows for prediction of how the text will unfold	Understand that cohesive links can be made in texts by omitting or replacing words
	Punctuation How punctuation works to perform different functions in a text.	Understand that punctuation is a feature of written text different from letters; recognise how capital letters are used for names, and that capital letters and full stops signal the beginning and end of sentences	Recognise that different types of punctuation, including full stops, question marks and exclamation marks, signal sentences that make statements, ask questions, express emotion or give commands	Recognise that capital letters signal proper nouns and commas are used to separate items in lists	Know that word contractions are a feature of informal language and that apostrophes of contraction are used to signal missing letters	Recognise how quotation marks are used in texts to signal dialogue, titles and quoted (direct) speech	Understand how the grammatical category of possessives is signalled through apostrophes and how to use apostrophes with common and proper nouns	Understand the uses of commas to separate clauses
	Concepts of print and screen The different conventions that apply to how text is presented on a page or screen	Understand concepts about print and screen, including how books, film and simple digital texts work, and know some features of print, for example directionality	Understand concepts about print and screen, including how different types of texts are organised using page numbering, tables of content, headings and titles, navigation buttons, bars and links	Know some features of text organisation including page and screen layouts, alphabetical order, and different types of diagrams, for example timelines	Identify the features of online texts that enhance navigation	Identify features of online texts that enhance readability including text, navigation, links, graphics and layout	Investigate how the organisation of texts into chapters, headings, subheadings, home pages and sub pages for online texts and according to chronology or topic can be used to predict content and assist navigation	This sequence ends at Year 5

Sub Strand	Focus of thread within the sub-strand	Year 6	Year 7	Year 8	Year 9	Year 10
Language Variation and Change	Language variation and change How English varies according to context and purpose including cultural and historical contexts	Understand that different social and geographical dialects or accents are used in Australia in addition to Standard Australian English	Understand the way language evolves to reflect a changing world, particularly in response to the use of new technology for presenting texts and communicating	Understand the influence and impact that the English language has had on other languages or dialects and how English has been influenced in return	Understand that Standard Australian English is a living language within which the creation and loss of words and the evolution of usage is ongoing	Understand that Standard Australian English in its spoken and written forms has a history of evolution and change and continues to evolve
	Language for social interactions How language used for different formal and informal social interactions is influenced by the purpose and audience	Understand that strategies for interaction become more complex and demanding as levels of formality and social distance increase	Understand how accents, styles of speech and idioms express and create personal and social identities	Understand how conventions of speech adopted by communities influence the identities of people in those communities	Understand that roles and relationships are developed and challenged through language and interpersonal skills	Understand how language use can have inclusive and exclusive social effects, and can empower or disempower people
Language for interaction	Evaluative language How language is used to express opinions, and make evaluative judgments about people, places, things and texts	Understand the uses of objective and subjective language and bias	Understand how language is used to evaluate texts and how evaluations about a text can be substantiated by reference to the text and other sources	Understand how rhetorical devices are used to persuade and how different layers of meaning are developed through the use of metaphor, irony and parody	Investigate how evaluation can be expressed directly and indirectly using devices, for example allusion, evocative vocabulary and metaphor	Understand that people's evaluations of texts are influenced by their value systems, the context and the purpose and mode of communication
	Purpose audience and structures of different types of texts How texts serve different purposes and how the structures of types of texts vary according to the text purpose	Understand how authors often innovate on text structures and play with language features to achieve particular aesthetic, humorous and persuasive purposes and effects	Understand and explain how the text structures and language features of texts become more complex in informative and persuasive texts and identify underlying structures such as taxonomies, cause and effect, and extended metaphors	Analyse how the text structures and language features of persuasive texts, including media texts, vary according to the medium and mode of communication	Understand that authors innovate with text structures and language for specific purposes and effects	Compare the purposes, text structures and language features of traditional and contemporary texts in different media
Text structure and organisation	Text cohesion How texts work as cohesive wholes through language features which link the parts of the text together, such as paragraphs, connectives, nouns and associated pronouns	Understand that cohesive links can be made in texts by omitting or replacing words	Understand that the coherence of more complex texts relies on devices that signal text structure and guide readers, for example overviews, initial and concluding paragraphs and topic sentences, indexes or site maps or breadcrumb trails for online texts	Understand how cohesion in texts is improved by strengthening the internal structure of paragraphs through the use of examples, quotations and substantiation of claims Understand how coherence is created in complex texts through devices like lexical cohesion, ellipsis, grammatical theme and text connectives	Compare and contrast the use of cohesive devices in texts, focusing on how they serve to signpost ideas, to make connections and to build semantic associations between ideas	Understand how paragraphs and images can be arranged for different purposes, audiences, perspectives and stylistic effects
	Punctuation How punctuation works to perform different functions in a text.	Understand the uses of commas to separate clauses	Understand the use of punctuation to support meaning in complex sentences with phrases and embedded clauses	Understand the use of punctuation conventions including colons, semicolons, dashes and brackets in formal and informal texts	Understand how punctuation is used along with layout and font variations in constructing texts for different audiences and purposes	Understand conventions for citing others, and how to reference these in different ways
	Concepts of print and screen The different conventions that apply to how text is presented on a page or screen	This sequence ends at Year 5

Expressing and developing ideas	Sentences and clause level grammar What a clause is and how simple, compound and complex sentences are constructed through one clause (simple) or by combining clauses using different types of conjunctions (compound and complex)	Recognise that sentences are key units for expressing ideas	Identify the parts of a simple sentence that represent 'What's happening?', 'Who or what is involved?' and the surrounding circumstances	Understand that simple connections can be made between ideas by using a compound sentence with two or more clauses usually linked by a coordinating conjunction	Understand that a clause is a unit of grammar usually containing a subject and a verb and that these need to be in agreement	Understand that the meaning of sentences can be enriched through the use of noun groups/phrases and verb groups/phrases and prepositional phrases	Understand the difference between main and subordinate clauses and that a complex sentence involves at least one subordinate clause	Investigate how complex sentences can be used in a variety of ways to elaborate, extend and explain ideas
	Word level grammar The different classes of words used in English (nouns, verbs etc) and the functions they perform in sentences and when they are combined in particular recognisable groups such as phrases and noun groups.	Recognise that texts are made up of words and groups of words that make meaning	Explore differences in words that represent people, places and things (nouns, including pronouns), happenings and states (verbs), qualities (adjectives) and details such as when, where and how (adverbs)	Understand that nouns represent people, places, things and ideas and can be, for example, common, proper, concrete or abstract, and that noun groups/phrases can be expanded using articles and adjectives	Understand that verbs represent different processes (doing, thinking, saying, and relating) and that these processes are anchored in time through tense	Understand how adverb groups/phrases and prepositional phrases work in different ways to provide circumstantial details about an activity	Understand how noun groups/phrases and adjective groups/phrases can be expanded in a variety of ways to provide a fuller description of the person, place, thing or idea	Understand how ideas can be expanded and sharpened through careful choice of verbs, elaborated tenses and a range of adverb groups/phrases
	Visual language How images work in texts to communicate meanings, especially in conjunction with other elements such as print and sound	Explore the different contribution of words and images to meaning in stories and informative texts	Compare different kinds of images in narrative and informative texts and discuss how they contribute to meaning	Identify visual representations of characters' actions, reactions, speech and thought processes in narratives, and consider how these images add to or contradict or multiply the meaning of accompanying words	Identify the effect on audiences of techniques, for example shot size, vertical camera angle and layout in picture books, advertisements and film segments	Explore the effect of choices when framing an image, placement of elements in the image, and salience on composition of still and moving images in a range of types of texts	Explain sequences of images in print texts and compare these to the ways hyperlinked digital texts are organised, explaining their effect on viewers' interpretations	Identify and explain how analytical images like figures, tables, diagrams, maps and graphs contribute to our understanding of verbal information in factual and persuasive texts
	Vocabulary The meanings of words including everyday and specialist meanings and how words take their meanings from the context of the text	Understand the use of vocabulary in familiar contexts related to everyday experiences, personal interests and topics being taught at school	Understand the use of vocabulary in everyday contexts as well as a growing number of school contexts, including appropriate use of formal and informal terms of address in different contexts	Understand the use of vocabulary about familiar and new topics and experiment with and begin to make conscious choices of vocabulary to suit audience and purpose	Learn extended and technical vocabulary and ways of expressing opinion including modal verbs and adverbs	Incorporate new vocabulary from a range of sources into students' own texts including vocabulary encountered in research	Understand the use of vocabulary to express greater precision of meaning, and know that words can have different meanings in different contexts	Investigate how vocabulary choices, including evaluative language can express shades of meaning, feeling and opinion
	Spelling Knowledge for spelling including knowledge about how the sounds of words are represented by various letters and knowledge of irregular spellings and spelling rules	Know that spoken sounds and words can be written down using letters of the alphabet and how to write some high-frequency sight words and known words Know how to use onset and rime to spell words	Know that regular one-syllable words are made up of letters and common letter clusters that correspond to the sounds heard, and how to use visual memory to write high-frequency words Recognise and know how to use morphemes in word families for example 'play' in 'played' and 'playing'	Understand how to use digraphs, long vowels, blends and silent letters to spell words, and use morphemes and syllabification to break up simple words and use visual memory to write irregular words Recognise common prefixes and suffixes and how they change a word's meaning	Understand how to use sound-letter relationships and knowledge of spelling rules, compound words, prefixes, suffixes, morphemes and less common letter combinations, for example 'tion' Recognise high frequency sight words	Understand how to use strategies for spelling words, including spelling rules, knowledge of morphemic word families, spelling generalisations, and letter combinations including double letters Recognise homophones and know how to use context to identify correct spelling	Understand how to use banks of known words, as well as word origins, prefixes and suffixes, to learn and spell new words Recognise uncommon plurals, for example 'foci'	Understand how to use banks of known words, word origins, base words, suffixes and prefixes, morphemes, spelling patterns and generalisations to learn and spell new words, for example technical words and words adopted from other languages
Sound and letter knowledge	Phonemic awareness (sounds of language) Basic knowledge of sounds of language and how these are combined in spoken words	Recognise rhymes, syllables and sounds (phonemes) in spoken words	Manipulate sounds in spoken words including phoneme deletion and substitution	Recognise most sound-letter matches including silent letters, vowel/consonant digraphs and many less common sound-letter combinations	This sequence ends at Year 2
	Alphabet knowledge The written code of English (the letters) and how these are combined in words	Recognise the letters of the alphabet and know there are lower and upper case letters	Recognise sound letter — matches including common vowel and consonant digraphs and consonant blends Understand the variability of sound — letter matches	This sequence ends at Year 1

Expressing and developing ideas	Sentences and clause level grammar What a clause is and how simple, compound and complex sentences are constructed through one clause (simple) or by combining clauses using different types of conjunctions (compound and complex)	Investigate how complex sentences can be used in a variety of ways to elaborate, extend and explain ideas	Recognise and understand that subordinate clauses embedded within noun groups/phrases are a common feature of written sentence structures and increase the density of information	Analyse and examine how effective authors control and use a variety of clause structures, including clauses embedded within the structure of a noun group/phrase or clause	Explain how authors creatively use the structures of sentences and clauses for particular effects	Analyse and evaluate the effectiveness of a wide range of sentence and clause structures as authors design and craft texts
	Word level grammar The different classes of words used in English (nouns, verbs etc) and the functions they perform in sentences and when they are combined in particular recognisable groups such as phrases and noun groups.	Understand how ideas can be expanded and sharpened through careful choice of verbs, elaborated tenses and a range of adverb groups/phrases	Understand how modality is achieved through discriminating choices in modal verbs, adverbs, adjectives and nouns	Understand the effect of nominalisation in the writing of informative and persuasive texts	Understand how certain abstract nouns can be used to summarise preceding or subsequent stretches of text	Analyse how higher order concepts are developed in complex texts through language features including nominalisation, clause combinations, technicality and abstraction
	Visual language How images work in texts to communicate meanings, especially in conjunction with other elements such as print and sound	Identify and explain how analytical images like figures, tables, diagrams, maps and graphs contribute to our understanding of verbal information in factual and persuasive texts	Analyse how point of view is generated in visual texts by means of choices, for example gaze, angle and social distance	Investigate how visual and multimodal texts allude to or draw on other texts or images to enhance and layer meaning	Analyse and explain the use of symbols, icons and myth in still and moving images and how these augment meaning	Evaluate the impact on audiences of different choices in the representation of still and moving images
	Vocabulary The meanings of words including everyday and specialist meanings and how words take their meanings from the context of the text	Investigate how vocabulary choices, including evaluative language can express shades of meaning, feeling and opinion	Investigate vocabulary typical of extended and more academic texts and the role of abstract nouns, classification, description and generalisation in building specialised knowledge through language	Recognise that vocabulary choices contribute to the specificity, abstraction and style of texts	Identify how vocabulary choices contribute to specificity, abstraction and stylistic effectiveness	Refine vocabulary choices to discriminate between shades of meaning, with deliberate attention to the effect on audiences
	Spelling Knowledge for spelling including knowledge about how the sounds of words are represented by various letters and knowledge of irregular spellings and spelling rules	Understand how to use banks of known words, word origins, base words, suffixes and prefixes, morphemes, spelling patterns and generalisations to learn and spell new words, for example technical words and words adopted from other languages	Understand how to use spelling rules and word origins, for example Greek and Latin roots, base words, suffixes, prefixes, spelling patterns and generalisations to learn new words and how to spell them	Understand how to apply learned knowledge consistently in order to spell accurately and to learn new words including nominalisations	Understand how spelling is used creatively in texts for particular effects, for example characterisation and humour and to represent accents and styles of speech	Understand how to use knowledge of the spelling system to spell unusual and technical words accurately, for example those based on uncommon Greek and Latin roots
	Sound and letter knowledge	Phonemic awareness (sounds of language) Basic knowledge of sounds of language and how these are combined in spoken words	This sequence ends at Year 2
Alphabet knowledge The written code of English (the letters) and how these are combined in words		This sequence ends at Year 1

Interpreting, analysing, evaluating	Purpose and audience Recognising and analysing differences between different types of texts	Analyse how text structures and language features work together to meet the purpose of a text	Analyse and explain the ways text structures and language features shape meaning and vary according to audience and purpose	Analyse and evaluate the ways that text structures and language features vary according to the purpose of the text and the ways that referenced sources add authority to a text	Interpret, analyse and evaluate how different perspectives of an issue, event, situation, individuals or groups are constructed to serve specific purposes in texts	Identify and analyse implicit or explicit values, beliefs and assumptions in texts and how these are influenced by purposes and likely audiences
	Reading processes Strategies for using and combining contextual, semantic, grammatical and phonic knowledge to decode texts including predicting, monitoring, cross-checking, self-correcting, skimming and scanning	Select, navigate and read texts for a range of purposes applying appropriate text processing strategies and interpreting structural features, for example table of contents, glossary, chapters, headings and subheadings	Use prior knowledge and text processing strategies to interpret a range of types of texts.	Apply increasing knowledge of vocabulary, text structures and language features to understand the content of texts	Apply an expanding vocabulary to read increasingly complex texts with fluency and comprehension	Choose a reading technique and reading path appropriate for the type of text, to retrieve and connect ideas within and between texts
	Comprehension strategies Strategies of constructing meaning from texts, including literal and inferential meaning	Use comprehension strategies to interpret and analyse information and ideas comparing content from a variety of textual sources including media and digital texts	Use comprehension strategies to interpret, analyse and synthesise ideas and information, critiquing ideas and issues from a variety of textual sources	Use comprehension strategies to interpret and evaluate texts by reflecting on the validity of content and the credibility of sources, including finding evidence in the text for the author's point of view	Use comprehension strategies to interpret and analyse texts, comparing and evaluating representations of an event, issue, situation or character in different texts	Use comprehension strategies to compare and contrast information within and between texts, identifying and analysing embedded perspectives, and evaluating supporting evidence
	Analysing and evaluating texts Analysis and evaluation of how text structures and language features construct meaning and influence readers/viewers	Analyse strategies authors use to influence readers	Compare the text structures and language features of multimodal texts, explaining how they combine to influence audiences	Explore and explain the ways authors combine different modes and media in creating texts, and the impact of these choices on the viewer/listener	Explore and explain the combinations of language and visual choices that authors make to present information, opinions and perspectives in different texts
Creating texts	Creating texts Creating different types of spoken, written and multimodal texts using knowledge of text structures and language features	Plan, draft and publish imaginative, informative and persuasive texts choosing and experimenting with text structures, language features, images and digital resources appropriate to purpose and audience	Plan, draft and publish imaginative, informative and persuasive texts selecting aspects of subject matter and particular language, visual, and audio features to convey information and ideas	Create imaginative, informative and persuasive texts that raise issues, report events, and advance opinions, using deliberate language and textual choices, and including digital elements as appropriate	Create imaginative, informative and persuasive texts that present a point of view and advance or illustrate arguments, including texts that integrate visual, print and/or audio features	Create sustained texts, including texts that combine specific digital or media content, for imaginative, informative, or persuasive purposes, and that reflect upon challenging and complex issues
	Editing Editing texts for meaning, structure and grammatical features	Reread and edit their students' own and others' work using agreed criteria and explaining editing choices	Edit for meaning by removing repetition, refining ideas, reordering sentences and adding or substituting words for impact	Experiment with text structures and language features to refine and clarify ideas to improve the effectiveness of students' own texts	Review and edit students' own and others' texts to improve clarity and control over content, organisation, paragraphing, sentence structure, vocabulary and audio/visual features.	Review, edit and refine students' own and others' texts for control of content, organisation, sentence structure, vocabulary, and/or visual features, to achieve particular purposes and effects
	Handwriting Developing a fluent, legible handwriting style, beginning with unjoined letters and moving to joined handwriting	Develop a handwriting style that is legible, fluent and automatic and varies according to audience and purpose	Consolidate a personal handwriting style that is legible, fluent and automatic and supports writing for extended periods	This sequence ends at this year level
	Use of software Using a range of software applications to construct and edit print and multimodal texts	Use a range of software, including word processing programs, learning new functions as required to create texts	Use a range of software, including word processing programs, to confidently create, edit and publish written and multimodal texts.	Use a range of software, including word processing programs to create, edit and publish texts imaginatively	Use a range of software, including word processing programs, flexibly and imaginatively to publish texts	Use a range of software, including word processing programs, confidently, flexibly and imaginatively to publish texts, considering the identified purpose and the characteristics of the user
